

OVR is hosting a district wide Transition Night on October 14th at 6:30pm, specifically designed for transition-aged youth and families.

The Pennsylvania Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) provides vocational rehabilitation services to help students and adults with disabilities prepare for, obtain, or maintain employment. OVR can assist students in selecting their vocational goal, provide counseling and guidance, diagnostic services, assessments, job development and placement services.

This event will allow youth with disabilities and their parents/guardians to connect with a few of our staff, learn about OVR services, and to discuss the next steps to take toward gaining their independence. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) can assist youth throughout their transition process by working with our Early Reach Coordinators and Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors. Even after a student graduates from high school, OVR continues to help the student in obtaining their employment goal.
